Research & Development

INNOVATION & TECHNOLOGICAL ADVANCEMENTS

- Dedicated R&D team focused on developing next-generation powder coatings.
- Investment in cutting-edge research to enhance durability, adhesion, and efficiency.
- Collaboration with industry experts to stay ahead of market trends.
- Testing facilities equipped with advanced tools to evaluate coating performance under various conditions.

ADVANCED TESTING METHODS FOR POWDER COATINGS

- Corrosion Resistance: Salt spray testing to assess the coating's ability to withstand harsh, corrosive environments.
- Stress Endurance: Impact testing to determine the coating's ability to withstand high-stress conditions without damage.
- Surface Durability: Abrasion testing and flexibility testing to measure the coating's resilience against wear, bending, and environmental stress.
- Weathering Resistance: Xenon arc testing to simulate accelerated aging and assess the coating's durability under prolonged exposure to UV light and extreme weather conditions.
